

Fidel – Peru

Fidel is a professional with a vocation as an educator, with vision of science, technology and innovation. He is the President of Junin Node of the International Movement for Leisure in Science MILSET (Paris headquarters) and Cientec Lima, from 2005 to till date. UNESCO has recognized his work as a researcher, while the Swedish Embassy highlighted its participation in the International Environment Conference in the Scandinavian country.

He is also creator of the Science Club "Science to the Stars" (2007). He founded the Science Club for children, youth and professional "science to the Stars" Chupaca – Peru. He created the artificial wetland Pucush Uclo Eye of the world and his this innovative practice and model ranked among 4 best proposals for UNEP in the Environmental World Congress in Sweden and it was highly appreciated by the authorities. He has won more than 20 international awards and recognitions.