

Lusine, Russia

She is first category English teacher in Russia & teaches English as a foreign language in Russian Siberia. She is working as volunteer as Board Member of Kidlink Global Association. She is also NatGeo certified & PanApl School Certified Global Educator. She is NatGeo, PenPal & Kidlink certified educator of Russia and is using various technologies like digital Nat Geo, Pen Pal School lesson, Flipgrid video messaging, Kidlink interactive projects etc.

As a Board member of the Kidlink Global Association, as well as the founder and coordinator of the Kidlink "Schools Around the World" project. She set a goal to promote a global dialogue among students and teachers from different countries.

She helped her students to become digital citizens who use information technology to participate in public and political life. Projects like "Facts , Opinions and Fake News", " Save the Planet", " World Migration", "School Around the World", etc. helped them to broaden their knowledge and open a look at unfamiliar world, which previously seemed distant and incomprehensible.

"Schools around the World" project has already connected a significant number of school children from various countries like Asia, Europe, America, Africa and Australia. She arranged the 1st Global Ed online conference in her region with participation of educators from India, Sri Lanka, USA, Taiwan, and Russia.

Her educational research has been published at All - Russian Conference and Regional journal for teachers. She has arranged various international students educational & cultural exchange programme with many countries and the educational environment is changing & developing not only her school but also whole Achinsk city. She arranged the first international online Global Education Conference in Krasnoyarsk Region(Achinsk, 2017). Her articles on Global Education are published in local, national and international journals. In 2016 I became the first National Geographic Certified Educator in Russia. In 2018 I became the Global Ambassador of the Pen Pal Schools Organization, which was announced one of the best social-educational practices by Barack Obama. She presented Global Education topics in several International Seminars/Conferences.
