

Mr. Amit Kumar

He is presently PGT in Computer Science in Jawahar NavodayaVidyalaya – Shimla. He has published two books: “Sustainable Energy Optimization in Mobile Communication Networks” and, “Wireless Mobile Broadband Technologies for the Future: and 86 research /survey papers in various National & International Journals. He is reviewer/editorial board member in nine journals. He has professional membership around the globe with nine organizations. His remarkable contributions, along with teaching are guiding several students and teachers about the various innovative practices in education. He served in Nanjing Forestry University, China as researcher. He is working with NCERT and IIT Bombay on various projects like Spoken Tutorial. Working on project: Sustainability Issue in Wireless Mobile Communication to study effect of Mobile Phone Radiation on Human Health.

For his outstanding contributions, Hon’ble President of India awarded him with National ICT Award – 2015.

MIIF